

I Love You, I Really Do

words and music
Vin Distefano

How can a word like love, when put in a phrase, pretend to touch?

But the words mean so much to me, when I hear them from you.

Cause they're all that we have, though no other words would do...

Chorus

They mean so much to me, when I hear from you...

I Love You, I Really Do.

We have a love that can't be broken, and our emotions, they can't be spoken.

I am a door and I can be open only for you, you are my key...(I love you, I always will)

(break)

Oh, the words mean so much to me, when I say them to you.

Cause they're all that we have, though, no other words will do.

Chorus

They mean so much to me, when I say to you...

I Love You, I Really Do.
